York Region Public Health declared an outbreak of COVID-19 at Elginwood Long Term Care Home in Richmond Hill on December 8. A total of two staff members have tested positive for COVID-19 since the outbreak began. The staff members remain at home in self-isolation.

We are working very closely with York Region Public Health officials to maintain pandemic outbreak protocols and infection control practices. All residents are isolated in their rooms, are monitored twice daily for symptoms and are tested if they present any potential signs or symptoms of the virus.

All staff are screened at the beginning and end of their shifts. All staff are required to wear appropriate personal protective equipment (PPE) in the home and are being cohorted to specific home areas.

Enhanced cleaning is being done at Elginwood. We are disinfecting high touch surfaces like handrails and doors, resident rooms, common areas and staff rooms twice daily.

Meals will be served in rooms with supervision and assistance as required. Individual recreation activities will be continued to maintain social engagement during this period of isolation.

We are regularly updating residents, their families and the staff of the status of the outbreak. Essential caregiver visits and essential visits for palliative residents are permitted.

We recognize how difficult these measures are for residents and their families and we appreciate the patience and understanding of families as we put these precautions in place for the safety of the residents.

Revera continues to do everything we can to keep our residents and employees safe as we work to prevent the spread of COVID-19 at our long term care homes and retirement residences.
